OVER THE WIRES

The Storm Does Slight Damage Over the State.

The L. and N.'s New Policy—Arrest Expected in Bedford, Ind., Case.

OTHER NEWS OF TODAY.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 8.—A destructive tornado, accompanied by heavy rainfall, swept over the Blue Grass region early today throughout Lincoln, Garrard, Mercer, Nicholas and Bourbon counties. Great damage done to residences, farm buildings, fences and bridges.

MURDERER NOW UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 8.—Detective Reed, who is at work on the Schreffer murder mystery, made a formal statement to newspaper correspondents:

"The identity of the murderer is known, and lives in a town in which Miss Schreffer formerly lived. There will be no immediate arrest. I feel more hopeful than at any time. The evidence in our possession we consider conclusive, convincing and of such a character as will result in a conviction."

RAILROAD RUMOR.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 8.—In carrying out its policy of establishing a commercial stronghold in Atlanta, it is semi-officially reported that the Louisville and Nashville railroad will appoint George E. Evans, fourth vice president, to take charge of the Atlanta field, and B. M. Stark, as general manager, to succeed him.

BROKE A BLOOD VESSEL.

Pembroke, Ky., Feb. 8.—Benjamin F. Wood, who was prominent here, broke a blood vessel while coughing last night, and died. He was sixty and was town marshal.

DROWNED IN CUMBERLAND.

Pembroke, Ky., Feb. 8.—The body of J. J. Ogden, Sr., of this place, was found in the Cumberland river near Nashville last night. He had been missing since November 25.

PROMINENT MAN PARALYZED.

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 8.—O. E. Morton, one of the wealthiest and most prominent men here, was paralyzed this morning and cannot recover. He is one of the biggest real estate owners in Western Kentucky.

WASHINGTON OUT

WILL NOT BE IN K. I. T. LEAGUE—VINCENNES IN RACE.

A Cairo dispatch states that Vincennes, Ind., formerly in the K. I. T. league, wants to come in again this summer but this matter will have to be voted on at the meeting of the league here February 14.

Vincennes was in the league the first part of the season but patronage was too poor to support a team and she had to drop out. Washington, Ind., has refused to consider an invitation to join any league and will support an independent team this season.

The Vincennes company has organized with $1,000 capital and $1,500 in bonds and is sure to finish the season if admitted.

AROUND THE HALL

Police Commissioners to Have Regular Meeting This Evening

Delegation Starts for Frankfort—Organization of New Board Soon.

OTHER CITY HALL NEWS

Tonight the board of fire and police commissioners will meet in regular session, but nothing of importance will be done it is said.

A member of the board stated this morning that the members would probably discuss the fire department ordinance recently brought before the municipal boards in which two extra firemen are added to the present department.

"We were not consulted relative to this matter," the commissioner stated, "and do not know what to think of it. We supposed we would be consulted in regard to what provisions were to be made for increasing the fire facilities of the city."

There will be no fire department appointments until the boards finally pass the ordinance providing for the two extra men, and it was not intended that any appointments be made in the department until the matter of increasing the facilities be settled. It is not known whether the action of the boards making an increase of just two men is final or not.

A good joke is being told on Mayor Yeiser. For some time there has been a periodic slaughter on the canines in the Wallace Park vicinity, near which Mayor Yeiser owns a summer home, where he keeps a large Great Dane. When the mayor heard of the mysterious deaths of dogs in that vicinity, he said that one thing was certain, that if the unknown animal which was killing them ever attacked his big dog its much-sought carcass would soon be on exhibition. It now develops, according to some of those in that section, that in all probability the mayor's big dog is the culprit itself. The animal has never been seen, but the fact that it kills dogs and nothing else, has convinced several that the Mayor's dog gets loose while spoiling for a fight, and owing to its great size and strength has no trouble in killing the bird and other dogs it engages.

The Wm. O'Brien who escaped from the chain gang here several weeks ago while serving a three months term for shop lifting, was not the O'Brien wanted at Connoil Bluff, Ia., for jumping his bond. It was thought for a time that he was wanted both here and in Memphis, but he is the wrong man. The O'Brien wanted is a noted pickpocket, and was released at St. Louis Saturday after serving a year in the workhouse for pocket picking, and was straightway arrested by an officer from Iowa and taken there for trial.

Alderman Julien Durrett left at noon for Frankfort as a committeeman from Paducah to assist in urging the passage of certain charter amendments in the legislature.

Mr. Durrett was appointed by President Charles Reed who was unable to go. President Hennen, of the council, and Mayor Yeiser with Solicitor E. H. Pryor, will leave tonight and will meet Mr. Durrett and the committee from other second class cities at Frankfort.

An attempt was made some time between Saturday night and this morning to break into the Bryant and Engert store on South Second street. The rear of the building is protected by double doors and the would-be burglars succeeded in getting into the first door but goods stored against the second door prevented them going any further. The matter has been reported to the police.

MILLIONS LOST IN BIG BALTIMORE FIRE

Baltimore Has The Most Destructive Fire in Her History.

Twenty or More Blocks of The Most Valuable Property Swept Away By Flames—Loss $250 Million or More.

Baltimore, Feb. 8.—Fire which broke out a few minutes before 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the wholesale dry goods house of John E. Hurst & Co. raged with unrestrained fury continuously until noon today. It destroyed almost all of the large stores and warehouses in the wholesale district around Hopkins place and all the buildings on both sides of Baltimore street, from Howard to Holiday street, from Charles and Baltimore to Charles and Lexington, and on Fayette street from Charles to Holiday, including a total of about twenty blocks of the most modern and substantial buildings in Baltimore, involving a loss which has certainly reached 250 million dollars.

Following the rapid destruction of the palatial commercial buildings in the wholesale district, the cyclone of roaring flames burst into Baltimore street, licking within a few minutes the seven story Mullins hotel like an insatiable monster and rapidly rolling, with irresistible force, both eastward and westward, cutting down wholesale and retail houses, manufactories, shops, jewelry stores, furniture emporiums and restaurants.

Down Baltimore street a parallel wave of roaring, crackling flames swept, consuming everything in its course, speedily reaching the Evening News building. Shortly thereafter the Continental Trust company building, a fourteen story building, took fire.

A block below the American newspaper building was enveloped in clouds of sparks and burning splinters and the employees were ordered out.

In addition to the list of other buildings burned the following buildings are destroyed:

Continental Trust company, Equitable, Calvert, Bank of Baltimore, International Trust company, Carrollton hotel, Junker's hotel, St. Paul's hotel, dynamited; Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company, Maryland Trust company, Alexander Brown Banking company.

The fire covered an area of three quarters of a mile in length by a quarter of a mile in width, taking in the most valuable buildings in the city.

When the fire reached Jones Falls, the wind changed, driving the fire south and that it had reached the wharf, where much inflammable material was in store.

There were many changes in the course of the fire after it started. It first took a northerly direction, swerved northwesterly, until about 4 o'clock and then struck due east.

The postoffice building burned also the $4,000,000 courthouse. The Holiday theater was blown up with dynamite and the United States Express office and central office of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad burned.

The blaze was not gotten completely under control until noon today and a conservative estimate is a $250,000,000 loss, perhaps much greater.

TWO NEGROES BURNED AT THE STAKE

Doddsville, Miss., Feb. 8.—The negroes Luther Holbert and his wife, who murdered young James Eastland at Doddsville here yesterday afternoon were burned at the stake at 3:30 o'clock. The 16 year old boy, son of the negroes was released.

James Eastland was but 21 years old and was murdered Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, when he went to Holbert's cabin. He had in company with him a negro named Albert Carr, who was also killed by Holbert at the same time. The object of the visit was to warn Holbert from molesting another negro who worked for the Eastlands. As young Eastland and the negro Carr entered the cabin they were shot down, Carr falling first on the veranda and Eastland being found on the bed in the room with a bullet hole in his forehead. Two shots from his revolver had been fired. A large crowd was present at the lynching, comprising almost all the original searching party, which included men from three counties. The lynching was accomplished in an orderly manner, and there was no effort at the terrorization of innocent negroes. The burning occurred under the negro church, which has served as a lodge room. Holbert and the woman were obdurate to the last and there is no doubt that unless they had been surprised they would have made a hard fight and have killed or injured a number of their pursuers.

WAR IS NOW EXPECTED, BUT NOT CERTAIN.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—Although the fear was general here that the presentation of the Russian note to Japan might be followed by an act on the part of the Japanese government which would plunge the countries into war, the startling action of Japan in severing diplomatic relations with Russia before the actual delivery of the Russian note came like a bolt from a clear sky.

Chefoo, Feb. 8.—It is now known here that instructions have been issued to the Japanese minister at St. Petersburg to demand his passports. All the Japanese at Liao Tang have been ordered to withdraw.

A SMALL BLAZE.

The fire department was called to the home of Mrs. Coyle, No. 1014 Jefferson street, this morning to extinguish a small blaze caused by burning soot. No damage was done.

Miss Alice Johnston left yesterday for an extended visit to Houston, O.

SUCCESSFUL BENEFIT.

The benefit given at the Kentucky theater for Miss Edna Farrell yesterday afternoon and last night was well attended and quite a neat sum was netted. There was a large crowd both afternoon and night, and the moving pictures and illustrated songs were greatly enjoyed.

THE HIGH WINDS

Do Considerable Damage of a Minor Nature.

Narrow Escape of L. O. Trains From a Disastrous Wreck.

NO ONE WAS HURT.

Sudden changes in the weather seem to be in order. After a typical spring day Saturday there were light showers and high winds Saturday night, and Sunday there had been a considerable drop in temperature which came more pronounced last night, resulting in a minimum of 23 degrees.

The wind Saturday night did considerable damage of a minor nature in the surrounding country, but there were no lives lost, and no great damage to anything.

It was reported that Cairo suffered considerably from the wind, but reliable reports from there today say that this is a mistake, that only a few fences, poles and wires were blown down.

In Paducah the wind did considerable damage, blowing the window lights out of the Trimble street Methodist church and blowing trees and fences down, and unroofing barns in the county.

The congregation at the Trimble street church had to turn back Sunday morning when they found all the glass blown out of their church and this morning it was learned that a big window light was broken out of the High School building in Mrs. Minnie Herndon's room.

The big glass in the L. B. Ogilvie dry goods store show window which was cracked several weeks ago, was blown out.

The winds played havoc with the L. O. at Iron Ore Hill and came near causing a serious wreck.

At Iron Ore Hill, which is just north of Cumberland river, a long string of empty freight cars had been shoved into a siding and the winds started these out on the track. They ran down to Cumberland bridge and freight train No. 154, first section, struck the cars. The train was in charge of Conductor Jennings and Engineer Vickroy. The latter saw the cars in time to slow down considerably. One car was broken in two and the pilot broken off the freight engine. No one was injured but the crew had a good shaking up.

The cars were backed into the siding again and made secure against any other winds that might cause damage.

The wind did damage at Cecil station, on the Louisville division of the L. O., blowing away the pump house. The damage to the company will amount to from $150 to $200.

Mr. T. F. Anderson, who lives about eight miles out on the Hinkleville road, was in the city today and stated that the storm did considerable damage in his section. It took his barn about two feet off the foundation and blew down about 400 pounds of fencing.

It blew the Widow Lawrence's barn off its foundation, and blew down Mr. Charles Thornhill's crib and buggy house, unroofing Mr. Richtman's barn and taking the roof off the Widow Richtman's smoke house. No one was injured.

Today it was learned that most of the Cumberland long distance lines in Ballard county were down. Reports to the local office were that there was hardly a fence standing in the vicinity of Barlow City, and that scores of barns were down.

Down about Joppa, where hundreds of thousands of ties are unloaded, even freight cars had the tops taken off, and there was much other damage.

The wind Saturday night did much damage at Mayfield.

The smoke stacks of the waterworks were blown down and the roof of the Pogram tobacco warehouse was picked up and hurled across the railroad

BLOODY AFFRAY

Results From Trouble With Union Miners in Tennessee.

Four Killed and Others in Bad Straits—Much Excitement.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 8.—A bloody tragedy was enacted in the little mining town of Coal Creek, Tenn., forty miles northwest of Knoxville, as the result of which four lives were snuffed out and three persons wounded, one perhaps fatally. The clash was the culmination of trouble between union and non-union labor.

Three of the dead men were killed by guards employed by the coal creek company, while the fourth victim, a deputy sheriff, was killed by a guard he had gone to arrest.

THE DEAD.

MONROE BLACK, a miner, aged 24, married; leaves a wife.

W. W. TAYLOR, miner, aged 31; leaves a wife and four children.

JACOB SHARP, section hand, a bystander, aged 35; leaves a wife and six children.

ROBERT HARMON, deputy sheriff; killed by Cal Burton, a guard at the Briceville mine.

The Wounded—A. R. Watts, merchant at Coal Creek, an innocent bystander, shot through both cheeks; Moto Cox, miner, shot through the left arm; Jeff Hoskins, engineer on the Southern railroad, slightly wounded.

When the wage scale was signed in district No. 19, United Mine Workers, the Coal Creek company refused to sign. The miners refused to resume work in the Fraterville and Thistle mines and for several months these two mines were shut down. Efforts were made to resume with non-union men, but these, who were in nearly every instance imported, were either induced to join the union or were chased away, presumably by union men. The aid of the courts was invoked to oust families of union miners from the houses owned by the company.

Numbers of arrests were made for trespassing on property of the company, and ill feeling was further engendered by actions in law. Recently a dozen guards in charge of Jud Reeder, were employed to guard the mines and protect the men. Non-union miners were brought to the mines every few days, and Reeder and his guards would go to the railroad station and meet them. Yesterday the crowd of idlers around the station was increased. Reeder and twelve guards came from the mines to meet a few non-union men who were to arrive on the morning train.

When the non-union men got off the train and were seen by a number of small boys, they began yelling "Soab," and the killing grew out of this taunt.

When the excitement reached the boiling point Reeder and Colton drew their pistols and began shooting. Reeder did the most of it. The guards climbed into their wagons and drove back to the mines.

About 12 o'clock a dispute arose between Deputy Sheriff Hob Harmon and Guard Cal Burton. Burton shot Harmon twice, killing him instantly.

The three guards, Reeder, Bolton and Burton, were placed under arrest and for safekeeping brought to this city, where they are being guarded. The guards claim they were forced to shoot and had sufficient provocation. Sheriff Moore has asked for troops and Gov. Frazier wired Lieut. Col. Spence of the Second Battalion of the Third regiment, Knoxville, to have his men in readiness to go to the scene.

tracks. The fast south bound passenger train No. 103 ran into it, but the engineer saw the danger before it was too late and succeeded in stopping before any harm was done.

Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to lie awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the brain cells, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic. Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Backache, Worry, Restlessness, irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity. Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic.

"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up to have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby girl was sent away, and all callers barred, because he could not stand a bit of talking. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve Tonic. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nerve Tonic saved his life."—MRS. A. G. HASKIN, Freeville, N. Y.

SENT BACK HOME

ILLINOIS CENTRAL ADJUSTS ITS TROUBLE WITH THE DAGOES.

The Illinois Central solved the problem of what to do with the Dagoes who tore up the tracks and threatened destruction to the road near Pierce Station and Newbern, Tenn., a short distance below Fulton, by sending the men back to Chicago. The road brought the Italian laborers to this section from Chicago only after all other efforts to get other labor had failed.

"DO IT TODAY."

The time worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it today—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

The subcommittee in charge of the arrangements for the National Republican Convention at Chicago announces that press tickets will be issued only to actual working newspaper reporters.

CURED LUMBAGO.

A. B. Cannan, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Mrs. Maybrick is in the custody of the sisters of the Epiphany at Truro, Cornwall, in whose charge she will remain until she is released next July. She is under an assumed name.

Two Men Killed in Minstrel Performance at Middlesboro—Death Sentence for Warner.

UNUSUAL TRIPLE WEDDING

Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 8.—An unusual triple wedding took place at a hotel in this city, when three couples from Dawson Springs came here and were married. They were Mr. Eli Coates and Mrs. Tennie Darnell. Mr. William A. Coates and Miss Mary E. Dillingham and Mr. Ed Darnell and Miss Eva Coates. Two of the bridegrooms are brothers and one of the brides, Mrs. Darnell, is the daughter of Mr. Eli Coates. The latter is a merchant at Dawson Springs, while his brother, Mr. William Coates, is a farmer of that vicinity. After the wedding the parties left for their homes. This was the most completely mixed up family affair in the style of a wedding ever known in Madisonville.

TRAGEDY AT MINSTREL

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 8.—A double tragedy occurred in the gallery of the Princess theater during a performance by West's minstrels Saturday night. John White, a negro ex-convict, shot and instantly killed Policeman John Burns, and accidentally killed John Sharp, a switchman in the employ of the Louisville and Nashville. The tragedy was the result of threats by the police officer that he would arrest White for vagrancy. White escaped.

AWARDED $5,000.

Hickman, Ky., Feb. 8.—A verdict for $5,000 was rendered in the case of Morrison against Hibbs for alienation of affections of the latter's wife. At a former trial the jury could not agree, and since then Hibbs is alleged to have sold out everything he had and left the country. The principals live near Beelerston.

Lindo Murphy, the bootlegger, was fined $100 in six cases of selling liquor contrary to law, and will lay out his fines in jail.

TRYING TO GET MILLIONS.

Fulton, Ky., Feb. 8.—Mr. Gid Walgomott, of this city, will leave in a few days for Denver, Col., to personally investigate the estate recently left by Mrs. M. M. Sanford, of which Fulton people claim to be the rightful heirs.

Mr. Walgomott and his sister, Mrs. Clem Morris, will come in for their part of the estate if proof is made that they are the legal heirs.

INSANITY DODGE FAILED.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 8.—Grove B. Warner was convicted of murdering Plaski Leeds, superintendent of motive power of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, and the death penalty was fixed. An appeal will be taken. The defense was insanity.

PLEASANT AND MOST EFFETIVE.

T. J. Chambers, Ed. Vindicator, Liberty, Texas, writes December 25, 1902: "With pleasure and unsolicited by you, I bear testimony to the curative power of Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it in my family and can cheerfully affirm it is the most effective and pleasantest remedy for coughs and colds I have ever used." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

MAY BE MOVED

REPORTED GRAND RIVERS FURNACES WILL BE TAKEN TWENTY MILES.

The latest reports about the Grand Rivers furnaces, which were last operated by St. Louis capitalists, is that they will in a year or two be moved twenty miles back to get them into the best ore fields. A great many practical furnace men, however, have no confidence in the successful operation of the Grand Rivers furnaces, and do not think they will ever be successfully operated. They were built by Col. Thomas W. Lawson, now a rich capitalist of Boston.

DOCTORS CONTEST

With the Bill Agreed on Affecting Them.

Promises to Pass, Giving No School the Advantage Over the Others.

NEW MEASURE ON JURIES

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 8.—Under an agreement of the allopaths, osteopaths, homeopaths and eclectics practically reached all bills for the regulation of the various schools now pending before the legislature will be withdrawn and a substitute will be reported by the house committee on Kentucky statutes, providing that all physicians and osteopaths now practicing with proper license and diploma may continue.

The bill provides a board of examiners, upon which no school shall have a majority, to examine applicants for license to practice. Another provision is that the license of any inebriate or any person guilty of criminal practice may be revoked. The bill will not affect patent medicines, as the proposed provision bearing upon this matter will not be included.

Representative Edwards, of Louisville, has introduced in the house a bill providing for the abolition of the office of jury commissioner and requiring that the county assessor shall make out on or before the first day of June a list, in book form, known as the assessor's jury list, and containing the names and addresses of all persons eligible for jury service. The book shall become a public record.

A month after the list is returned the county attorney may, by giving five days' notice in writing, strike from the list the name of any person not eligible for service. He may, by giving five days' notice, add another name to fill the list.

The names are to be put in the drum, which is to be locked, and each judge of the circuit court is to have a key. The criminal judge at a time specified, shall draw 20 names from the drum for grand jury service, record the names and furnish the sheriff a list. The manner of drawing petit juries is also provided.

AUTOMATIC COLLECTOR OF TELEPHONE RENTALS.

New York Telegram to the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The New York Telephone company has entered upon an interesting experiment. It is placing 600 telephones in as many dwelling houses and private apartments in the residence section just above and below Harlem river. No charge is made for putting in or taking out. The citizen who has ordered the telephone guarantees nothing. He simply pays ten cents for each time he makes use of the same.

The novel feature is found in the method of payment. Mr. A wishes to speak to Mr. B. He drops ten cents in a slot in the machine and calls central. If central connects him with Mr. B the dime drops into another receptacle and becomes the property of the telephone company. If central can not make the connection with B the dime rolls out, Mr. A puts in his pocket and reserves it for a later chance. At stated periods an agent of the company comes around, collects the money and locks the box for future use.

The company expects by this device not only to increase the use of the telephone, but also to save commission paid to the drug stores and other places used as pay stations. The citizen in whose house the automatic collecting machine is placed is provided with a package of postal cards, with which to request his friends to come in and use his phone. The more service it sees the more chance of its being left in on these advantageous terms.

REV. CARLISLE P. B. MARTIN, L. L. D.

Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

RURAL CARRIERS

Commission Has Drafted the Rules for Examination.

Copies Have Been Received Here, But No Date Is Set for Examinations.

THE NEW REGULATIONS

Postmaster F. M. Fisher has received copies of the first civil service rules made by the civil service commission governing examinations for applicants for positions as rural carrier.

No time has been fixed for an examination in this territory, but one is likely to come at any time. The dates are fixed by the commission. The rules, however, are permanent, and are important inasmuch as they are the only ones laid down by the commission so far, and that they will govern all civil service examinations in the future. Two important requirements are that applicants must live in the territory supplied, and that they must be between the ages of 17 and 55 years, unless honorably discharged soldiers or sailors.

In the future applicants for carrier will be examined by an official from Washington instead of by a special agent of the postoffice department.

The new regulations provide that no one shall be eligible to take the examination for rural free delivery carrier. First—Who does not live within the territory supplied by this postoffice or to be supplied by it through the establishment of rural free delivery service already investigated by the postoffice department.

Second—Who is not a citizen of the United States.

Third—Who is under 17 years of age, or over 55 years, except in cases of honorably discharged United States soldiers or sailors.

Fourth—Who is not physically able to do the work. (This includes persons with one arm or one leg or who have to use crutches).

Fifth—Who uses to excess brandy, whiskey, beer, wine or other intoxicating beverages.

Sixth—Who makes a false statement in his application, or has been guilty of fraud or deceit in connection with his application or examination.

Seventh—Who has been guilty of crime or disgraceful conduct.

Eighth—Who has been dismissed from public service for neglect of duty or misconduct within one year from the date of his application.

Ninth—Whose name is on a rural carrier's eligible roster.

HEAVY FINE

FOR TRIGG COUNTY MAN WHO SHOT M'RAKEN YOUTH.

Julius Randle, a young man who shot John Barnett, formerly of McCracken county, near Caledonia, Trigg county, last summer, was tried at Cadiz and fined $150 for shooting in sudden heat and passion. He and Barnett had trouble and Barnett was shot, and for several days it was thought he would die. His father is a resident of this county, and when the shooting occurred went to be with his son until he recovered.

RHEUMATISM

AN INDESCRIBABLE TORTURE

Because Rheumatism sometimes comes on suddenly it doesn't prove that it is a chance disease or one due to accidental causes. It takes time for it to develop, and is at work in the system long before any symptoms are felt. The blood is the first point of attack, and the poisonous acids that cause the aches and pains are then distributed through the circulation to different parts of the system, and settle in joints, muscles and nerves; and when the system is in this condition it needs only some exciting cause like exposure to night air, damp, chilly weather, or the cold, bleak winds of winter, to arouse the slumbering poisons and bring on Rheumatism. The severity of the attack depends upon the amount of acid in the blood and the quantity of acid matter in the joints and muscles. Some people are almost helpless from the first, while others have occasional spells or are uncomfortable, restless, nervous and half sick all the time from the nagging aches and pains. Rheumatism is a disagreeable companion even in its mildest form. It grows worse as we grow older, and frequently stiffens the joints, draws the muscles out of shape and breaks down the nervous system. A disease that originates in the blood, as Rheumatism does, cannot be cured with external remedies like liniments and plasters; such things scatter the poisons or drive them to some other part of the body, but do not touch the disease or improve the condition of the blood. The thin acid blood must be restored to its normal purity and strength, so that all poisonous substances may be carried out of the system, and no medicine accomplishes this in so short a time as S. S. S., which not only neutralizes the acids and counteracts the poisons, but builds up the general health at the same time.

RHEUMATISM IN ELBOWS, WRISTS AND KNEES.

Urbana, Ohio, Aug. 25, 1903.

Last winter I had a severe attack of Rheumatism. It started in the right elbow, and from there it went to the right wrist and was the worst. It became swollen and extremely painful. My left knee joint was the next place to be attacked. It became swollen and of course painful. The next point to be affected was the hip and ankle, which gave me much trouble. I was barely able to get about for some time. I was under treatment of a physician for a while, but getting no better I began S. S. S., and after taking it for some time I was entirely relieved of the Rheumatism. All swelling and soreness disappeared. I consider S. S. S. an excellent remedy for Rheumatism and all troubles having their origin in the blood.

THE COUNTRYMAN AND THE SNAKE.

Find Countryman's Wife.

A Villager, one frosty day in the depth of winter, found a Snake under a hedge, almost dead with the cold. Having pity on the poor creature, he brought it home, and laid it on the hearth near the fire. Revived by the heat, it reared itself up, and with dreadful hissings flew at the wife and children of its benefactor. The man, hearing their cries, rushed in and, with a mattock which he brought in his hand, soon cut the Snake in pieces. "Vile wretch!" said he; "is this the reward you make to him who saved your life? Die, as you deserve; but a single death is too good for you."

STATE Y. M. C. A.

QUITE A DELEGATION IS GOING FROM PADUCAH.

Paducah will be well represented at the annual state convention of the Y. M. C. A. to be held at Bowling Green February 18-21. The following will attend from here: Secretary Stuart B. Hanna and Physical Director H. E. Steele, of the local Y. M. C. A. Prof. George Payne, Messrs. W. B. Smith and W. J. Hills. The boys department of the association will be represented by: Norvin Allen, Guy Martin, Ned Ashbrook, Carl Leigh and probably others.

After the convention the delegates will be given an excursion to Mammoth Cave.

The following speakers will address the meeting:

Selden P. Spencer, of St. Louis; Edward W. Frost, of Milwaukee; Robert Weidensall, Fred S. Goodman, H. O. Williams, W. D. Weatherford, of the International Committee; S. D. Gordon, of Cleveland; president B. A. Jenkins, of Lexington; Geo. S. Budd, State Secretary, Ohio; W. E. Day, of Dayton, Ohio; President J. C. Acheson, of Danville; S. W. McGill, State Secretary, Tennessee, and others.

THE CASE OF CALEB POWERS.

(From the Cleveland Leader.)
The effort to take the case of Caleb Powers, of Kentucky, before the United States Supreme court ought to succeed in the interest of justice.

In view of all the circumstances it is not to be presumed that a fair verdict, or one that would be satisfactory to all the people could be obtained in a Kentucky court. For that reason it is desirable that the case of Powers be reviewed impartially and without political bias by the United States Supreme court. Not only would that accord fair play to the prisoner, but it would free Kentucky from the stain of disgrace that would attach to the state if the execution of Powers should some time turn out to have been a political murder.

There can be no reasonable objection to the carrying up of this case, if good ground for such action can be discovered.

FLIPPERS TO GO

SUPT. LIEB, OF THE SCHOOLS, DECLARES WAR AGAINST THEM.

This morning the regrading of pupils in the colored public schools was put into effect. The schools are now thoroughly regraded and better work will result, it is thought.

A glass was broken out of Mrs. Minnie Herndon's room in the High school building between Saturday afternoon and this morning and it is supposed to have been done by the storm. Superintendent Lieb has notified a good many flippers among the boys and intends to have the ordinance prohibiting shooting flippers enforced. The boys break out window lights and do other damage with these apparently harmless weapons.

WHOLE TRAIN

USED TO TAKE 20 CARS OF BAKING POWDER.

This morning a train load of baking powder was shipped through Paducah and is perhaps the biggest train of baking powder ever brought through this section.

The train consisted of 20 cars all loaded with this merchandise and was shipped from Nashville over the Tennessee Central to Hopkinsville and then brought over the I. C. to Paducah and from Paducah south to Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

The train was ordered out this morning at 6 o'clock and will go straight through to its destination, avoiding all unnecessary delays.

MANY THIEVES

BOX CARS ROBBED ON THE I. C. AT FULTON—COAL CARS AT MAYFIELD.

The Illinois Central is experiencing considerable difficulty with thieves, especially those who take advantage of the immense business that pours through Fulton, Ky., and loot box cars. A day or two ago a car was broken there and a large quantity of fine buggy whips, feather dusters, lantern globes and other things were taken, and Marshal Walker found three cases of cheese secreted under a treble which the thieves evidently expected to come back after.

In Mayfield war has been declared by the authorities against thieves of the coal stolen from box cars and sold.

500 MILE TRANSFER

Paducah Postman Sent to Clarksburg, West Va., to Work.

A Letter Carrier From There Comes to Paducah to Take His Place.

THE RURAL CARRIERS' HOLIDAY

The transfer of letter carriers from one route to another in a city is frequent, but the transfer of a carrier to another city 500 miles away is so infrequent and unusual that probably Paducah can boast of the distinction of offering the first instance on record of it in Kentucky.

Today orders were received at the local postoffice transferring Postman Charles Thacker from Paducah to Clarksburg, West Va., and transferring Postman D. R. Smith, of that place, to Paducah. The distance is over 500 miles, and the change is effective February 12.

Mr. Thacker has been a postman here for several years, and the health of his family has become such that he deems it advisable to change his residence. In such cases the department allows such transfers as is to be made in Mr. Thacker's case, and Mr. Smith volunteered to change jobs.

Mr. Thacker leaves in time to reach Clarksburg the 14th and Mr. Smith will be here ready to begin work on that date. He will have Mr. Thacker's route here, No. 7, which takes in the territory between and including Third street to Sixth and from Jackson to Husbands.

The four rural carriers in McCracken county, as well as the 20,000 elsewhere in the United States will be pleased to learn that the department has ordered that they take a holiday on February 22, Washington's birthday. The rural free delivery carriers, although Washington's birthday is a regular national holiday and the post-offices are closed, do not have a holiday except when the department makes a special order to that effect. This order has now been issued, and will arrive at the local postoffice in a day or two.

DRUMMERS CONTEST

Rival Organization Make Kentucky a Battle Ground.

T. P. A. and Commercial Travelers Have Representatives at Louisville.

An interesting fight is now being waged in Kentucky, according to the newspapers, between the two great organizations of commercial travelers, the Travelers' Protective association, and the United Commercial Travelers. The last named has never secured a very firm foothold among Kentucky drummers and has now established headquarters at Louisville, as has the T. P. A.

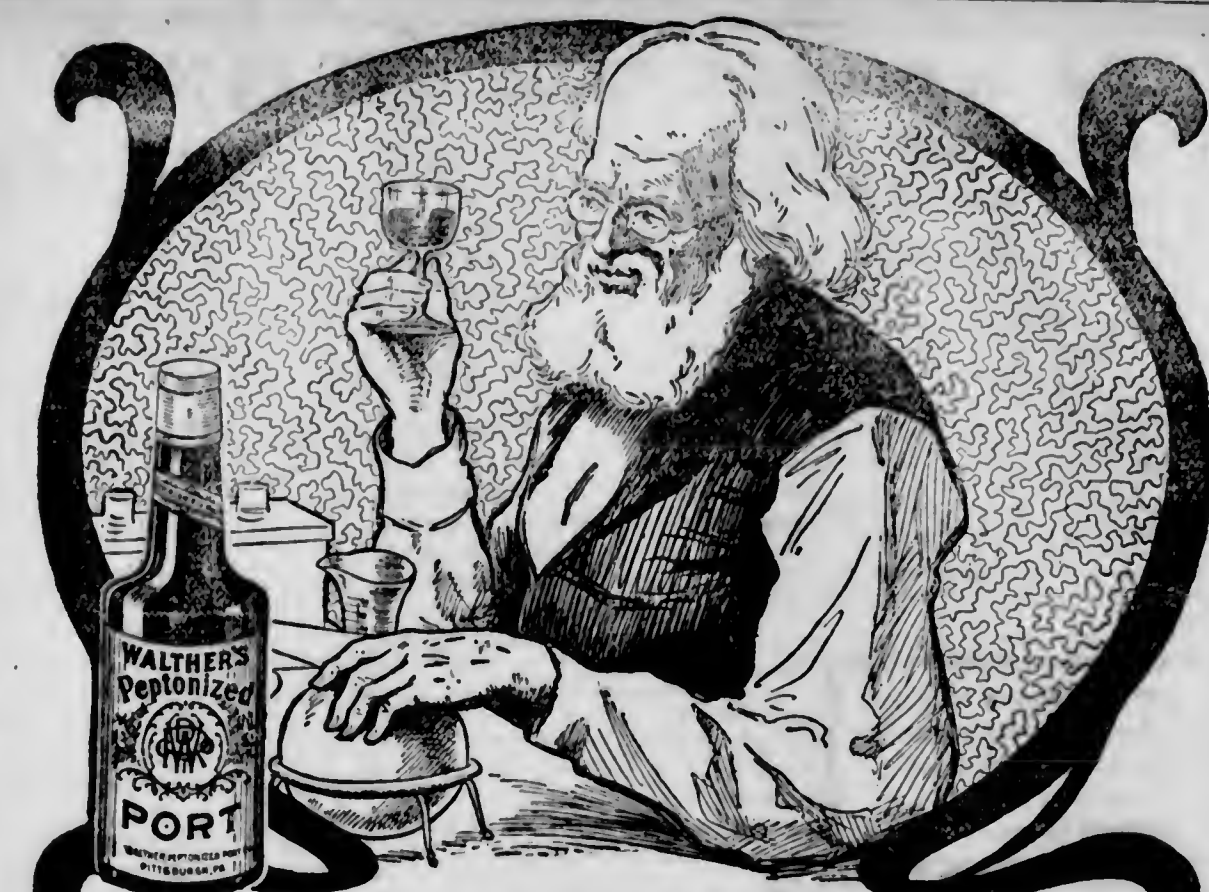

The T. P. A. has a large number of members in Paducah and surrounding cities, but so far as known there are no members of the other organization here.

A Louisville paper says of the present contest:

"The rivalry between the two orders has been centered in Louisville, and every effort is being made by both to outdo the other. The United Commercial Travelers have sent their grand secretary, R. F. Summerville, to Louisville.

"The Travelers' Protective association recently sent for President Donham, at the head of its organization. When the contest grew particularly warm, Secretary Summerville, of the U. C. T., sent up to Columbus, headquarters of the order, and got Treasurer Hull to come down and boom things.

"The membership of both organizations has been greatly increased since January 1. One of the organizations gives a $5,000 death benefit, and the other a $6,000 benefit. One takes in drummers only, and the other includes business men who have dealings with drummers."

DAILY THOUGHT.

Our character is but the stamp on our souls of the free choice of good and evil we have made through life.—Geikie.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and cold tonight. Tuesday fair and continued cold.

GAINS STRENGTH EVERY DAY.

The talk of an anti-Roosevelt delegation from Kentucky is all rot. President Roosevelt is the man for president, and all Republicans know it. Kentucky will send a delegation for Roosevelt. There will be no other candidate for the Republican nomination, and if there were Kentucky would still be for Roosevelt. The whole country is, or will soon be, for Roosevelt. He is making friends and winning admirers every day. His strong, courageous policy, in the face of misrepresentation and abuse from the Democrats, has shown him to be a man among men. Those who want a true, unbiased estimate of the president should read in the last Saturday Post, of Philadelphia, "Impressions of Mr. Roosevelt," by Alfred Henry Lewis, a Democrat.

Even Mr. W. J. Bryan, in his Louisville lecture, paid the president a gratuitous tribute:

"It is good to have an ideal in government," said Mr. Bryan. "This country has an ideal, and most excellently was it observed, as was shown in the recent conduct of the president of the United States in dealing with Cuba."

"About a year ago the president went out upon a tour of the west and made campaign speeches. I got more pleasure from that than any man in the country, for when I was out there the folks in Kansas said it was undignified in a presidential candidate to make campaign speeches. But here they saw a real, live president making such addresses to the people. When the president was out there he boasted of what he had done for Cuba, now liberty had been promised the Cubans, and of how he had given what had been promised. I am glad of it. I am glad he kept his promise. The time may come when the world will forget who led the charge up San Juan Hill, but the time will never come when the world will forget what president of the United States it was that lowered the American flag in Cuba and gave up the island to the liberty which had been promised."

President Roosevelt is a man who has rather the right than president, but he is both. He will be for four years longer—then again, for aught we know. There is no opposition to President Roosevelt, and will be none. All there has been existed only in the imagination of Democrats.

Senator Patterson, one of the worst of the bold, bad free silver men, announced in a speech in congress that he would not press for a further consideration of free silver by the Democratic party, as "the party is worse than insane which continues to advocate a policy which the country has declared against." A good idea. And on the strength of this unanswerable argument, the Democratic party should have gone out of business long ago. The country has declared against it and all it advocates so many times, that it is a sheer waste of time to keep asking for indorsement.

Every utterance of Mr. W. J. Bryan, in his editorials, speeches, interviews and lectures, proves conclusively that unless the Democratic party advocates and indorses what Mr. Bryan believes in and wants, he will bolt. He has left himself in such an attitude before his party and the country, that he could never do anything else but bolt without stultifying himself. And if Mr. Bryan succeeds in controlling the Democratic convention, the other fellows will bolt. Hence, what earthly hope is there for Democracy?

Mr. Bryan said to a Louisville editor who, while professing to be a Democrat, is against Bryanism, "I admire men like you who have the courage of their convictions." Yet he jumps at a chance to heap abuse on the heads of Cleveland, Hill, and others who had courage of their convictions enough to aid in preventing Mr. Bryan from ruining the country. If Mr. Bryan admires men who have the courage of their convictions, why is he so bitter towards the gold-bug element of his party?

The governor of Florida has refused to honor a requisition from the governor of Alabama. Young Mr. James, of Kentucky, has not yet been heard from on this latest outrage of interstate courtesy, but when he hears of it he will probably introduce another bill in congress.

In the Prohibition state of Kansas, where no whiskey is supposed to be sold, they are now disposing of it in electric light globes. And strange to say for a Prohibition state, the contents of a 32-candle power globe is said to be only one drink for the natives.

A horse driven to a brewery wagon dropped dead on the street Saturday night from "some unknown cause." Those who daily see how these brewery animals are driven, however, do not wonder why they occasionally drop dead.

Mr. Hearst is reported to be willing to serve as president of the United States for nothing. Very kind, but no doubt he will find the people do not want him even at such a reduced price.

If Mr. Gorman can't run things in his own state—and evidently he can't judging from the recent election of a goldbug senator—how can he expect to carry the rest of the country?

IT IS NOW MURDER

Charles Allison Dies at His Former Home.

Was Shot Here September 20 By John Bennett, Who Escaped.

A dispatch received today from Bowling Green, Ky., states that Charles Allison, a well known young steamboatman who was formerly in Paducah on the Thomas Nevins, and was shot by John Bennett, the mate, at the foot of Tennessee street September 20, died there today from his wounds.

Allison, it will be remembered, was shot in the spine and it was predicted soon after the shooting that he would never recover, but with wonderful vitality he lingered in the city hospital until the first of this year, when he was taken by relatives to his home in Bowling Green. He was never able to walk, the bullet having paralyzed his lower limbs, but was hopeful of recovering entirely in the course of time.

Bennett escaped after the shooting, which seems to have been the result of a drunken row. He has never since been heard of, and has probably escaped. The warrant against him now filed away for malicious shooting will probably be changed to one for murder.

DOUBLE TRACK

About 25 miles of the Illinois Central's double track between Fulton and Memphis is now complete and in service. That in use is between Fulton and Paducah junction, between Trimble and Newbern and between Hiale and the top of Covington hill. It is surprising how much this small amount of double track aids in the movement of trains.

SUING A CITY INTO REFORM.
Globe Democrat.

Bankruptcy menaces Chicago because the people of Chicago have sued it in their capacity as private individuals for $38,000,000 for injuries received at its hands as a municipality. Most of these injuries have resulted from falling down on its wooden sidewalks, falling through them, or from the sidewalks themselves flying up under pressure and smiting themselves, thigh and hip joint, shin and knee joint, and even in the face. Chicago finds it as hard to cure herself of the wooden sidewalk habit as of the smoke habit or the dirty street habit. The havoc among Chicago legs must be terrific judging from the vast total of these damage suits. It must be the greatest crutch center in the world. The breaking of bones must appear to be continuous.

Such a mountainous accumulation of damage suits should make Chicago pause and consider. No appeal to public spirit is likely to be so powerful as the one that it costs money to disregard. If any city cannot be persuaded to make itself clean, healthy and safe out of a high minded desire to be so, it can be fined or damaged suited into it. The screws can be turned on at the pocketbook. If every man knocked down and robbed should bring a suit for $10,000 against the city in which it happened and could get the money, it would make a great stirring of stumps around city halls and police boards; and there would presently be more or better policemen. If the householder could sue for $1,000 when his garbage was not hauled away or a dead dog lay in front of his gate for three days, committees and public officials would not putter and postpone and feebly speculate for months and years on what to do with garbage. About the time the suits mounted up to half a million there would either be a garbage removal plan evolved or there would be strange faces in the city hall.

If damage suits could be brought for unhealthful or defiled city water served through the mains, or for sidewalk obstructions or smoke nuisances, or any other negligence, stupidity and even rascality, there would be more numerous and more rapid reforms than all the gentle and unheeded recommendations and resolutions of private citizens and improvement associations. That $38,000,000 worth of damage suits may frighten Chicago into making itself a better city to live in. It isn't likely anything else will.

We Shall Spend $500,000 To Give Liquozone Away.

This Company, after testing Liquozone for two years in the most difficult germ diseases, paid $100,000 for the American rights. That is the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery.

We are now spending $500,000 to give the product away—one bottle to each of a million sick ones. We are doing this so that every sick one may let Liquozone itself prove what it can do.

Kills Inside Germs

The greatest value of Liquozone lies in the fact that it kills germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. And no man knows another way to do it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease, as every physician knows.

Liquozone will do for sick humanity more than all the drugs in the world combined. It does what no skill can accomplish without it. It cures diseases which medicine never cured.

Acts Like Oxygen

Liquozone is the result of a process which, for more than 20 years, has been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. By a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time, these gases are made part of the liquid product.

The result is a product that does what oxygen does. Oxygen gas, as you know, is the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. Liquozone is a vitalizing tonic with which no other known product can compare. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill.

The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone, which—like oxygen—is life to an animal, is deadly to vegetable matter. It is carried by the blood to every cell of every tissue, and no touch of impurity, no germ of disease, can exist where Liquozone goes.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

Ministerial Association Opposes Sunday Theatricals.

Believe That It Is Sabbath Desecration Unworthy of a Christian Cause.

OTHER NEWS OF CHURCHES

At the meeting of the Ministerial association this morning in the office of Rev. G. W. Perryman of the First Baptist church, unanimous action was taken condemning the benefit performances at the Kentucky Sunday afternoon and evening, for Miss Edna Farrell. No formal resolution was passed but the ministers present all declared themselves opposed to it. They took the position that it was a desecration of the Sabbath, which should not be made, particularly in the interest of charity.

Several of the ministers of the city also condemned the Sunday performances from their pulpits yesterday.

The most interesting event for this week in religious circles will be the series of lectures to be delivered by Prof. Burris Jenkins at the Broadway Methodist church under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, on the "Life of Christ." The series will begin Thursday evening and continue one week. A number of season tickets have been sold, and for a single lecture a charge of 25 cents will be made.

The services at the First Baptist church last night were of unusual interest. About 20 converts of the recent revival conducted by Rev. M. F. Ham, of Bowling Green, were baptised and the ceremony was witnessed by a large congregation, many being turned away on account of not being able to get into the auditorium of the church.

Large congregations attended the services at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church yesterday and there was one addition to the church. Rev. George O. Bachman will continue through this week, with preaching every evening except Saturday.

Rev. Thomas Shelton, of Knoxville, Tenn., began a series of revival services last night at the Second Baptist church. He preached morning and evening to large congregations.

The official board of the Broadway Methodist church will meet at the church this evening at 7:30.

WRECKER BUSY

A NUMBER OF SMALL DERAILMENTS YESTERDAY.

Saturday and Sunday the local I. C. wrecker was sent out on the Louisville division of the I. C. on a general cleaning up trip.

There were several derailments at Hamby Station, Luxner, Mercer and other mining stations and each of these stations was visited by the wrecker and the derailments remedied. The debris of the wreck at Little Cypress was cleared away and over a car load of coal taken up off the ground where it was scattered when the trains were wrecked.

of the council, are to leave tonight for Frankfort to look after the proposed charter amendments. It is possible Messrs. Reed and Hannan cannot get away. If they can't the former will appoint Alderman Durrett to go and the latter Councilman Righabeger.

Wharfman S. A. Fowler will probably resign at the next meeting of the board, and as soon as his resignation becomes effective he will qualify as a member of the board of public works. After this the board will be ready to organize.

John Portee, colored, was arrested this morning by Officers Terrell and Murray for the alleged theft of a box of chewing gum from the James P. Sleeth drug store, corner Ninth and Broadway.

City Treasurer J. J. Doran is improving rapidly from his recent fall, but he still has to keep his head in a bandage. The injuries were much more severe than was at first thought.

The case against Sallie Holmes, colored, for murdering Mary Duke, aged 9 years, comes up again tomorrow. There has been no new evidence discovered, so far as known.

John Henry, colored, was arrested this morning by Officer Cross for breaking into a banana car in the I. C. freight depot yards.

City Jailor Evans left this morning for Memphis on a business trip.

Attorney Frank Lucas returned from Wingo this morning.

TAKE FRECKLES OFF

SATINOLA

Positively Removes Freckles, Pimples, Liverspots, Blackheads, Sallowness and all discolorations and disfiguring eruptions. CLEARS AND BEAUTIFIES THE COMPLEXION. Price 50c. Once tried always used. Hundreds of ladies testify. Mrs. Foster writes:

HARTFORD, KY., Dec. 15, 1903.

NATIONAL TOILET CO., PARIS, TENN.

Gentlemen:—It affords me great pleasure to state, regarding your SATINOLA, that my face was blotched very badly, I had tried other remedies, and all seemed to bring out the spots plainer. When your Miss Ray told me about SATINOLA I had but little faith in it, but used two boxes, just as directed, and now haven't a splotch on my face, and have a splendid complexion. So many ask me what has given me such a good color. I cannot praise SATINOLA enough, and would not take anything for what it has done for me.

Very truly, Mrs. J. B. FOSTER.

NEWBERN FIRE.

HEAVY DAMAGE RESULTED BY CONFLAGRATION THERE.

Newbern, Tenn., Feb. 8.—The most disastrous fire that ever visited Newbern occurred Saturday night, sweeping McCoy & Herrin's big grain elevator and sawmill and burning half over J. R. Cole's lumber yard in the northeast portion of the town, destroying 200,000 feet of lumber. The elevator was built two years ago at a cost of $14,000 and was insured for $8,000. Eight thousand bushels of wheat were stored in it, on which there was insurance of $7,000. Their warehouse, on which there was small insurance, was also destroyed, but the stock was saved. Cole's loss is estimated at $5,000 with no insurance.

The fire was discovered in the top of the elevator and is supposed to have originated from the wheat fan.

Following is the insurance: Hartford, $3,000; North American, $2,000; Philadelphia Underwriters, $2,000; Westchester, $2,000; North British and Mercantile, $2,000; American Central, $1,500; New York Underwriters, $1,000.

Mrs. Robert B. Phillips and Miss Kathleen Whitefield went to Nashville this morning to visit.

SURE

THE ROBUST PHYSIQUE CAN STAND MORE COFFEE THAN A WEAK ONE.

A young Virginian says: "Having a naturally robust constitution far above the average and not having a nervous temperament, my system was able to resist the incursions upon it by the use of coffee for some years but finally the strain began to tell.

"For ten years I have been employed as telegraph operator and typewriter by a railroad in this section and until two years ago I had used coffee continually from the time I was eight years old, nearly 20 years.

"The work of operating the telegraph key is a great strain upon the nerves and after the day's work was over I would feel nervous, irritable, run down and toward the last suffered greatly from insomnia and neuralgia. As I never indulged in intoxicating liquors, drugs or tobacco in any form I came to the conclusion that coffee and tea were causing the gradual break down of my nervous system and having read an article in the Medical Magazine on the composition of coffee and its toxic effect upon the system, I was fully convinced that coffee was the cause of my trouble.

"Seeing Postum spoken of as not having any of the deteriorating effects of coffee I decided to give up the stimulant and give Postum a trial. The result was agreeably surprising. After a time my nerves became wonderfully strong, I can do all my work at the telegraph key and typewriter with far greater ease than ever before. My weight has increased 35 pounds, my general health keeping pace with it, and I am a new man and a better one." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Look in each package for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

CHURCH MUSICAL.

A silver shower musical will be given this evening at the residence of Mrs. George Langstaff on Kentucky avenue, for the benefit of Grace Episcopal church. An attractive program will be rendered.

Dr. Robert Rivers spent Sunday at Smithland.

Captain John Webb went to Princeton today at noon.

Miss Lela Beadles returned from Fulton today at noon.

Mr. James Nagel returned from Clinton today at noon.

Mrs. Ben Allen arrived last evening from Hopkinsville, where she has been visiting.

Supervisor McNamara, of the Louisville division of the I. O., is in the city on business.

Mr. Samuel L. Hyman, the shirt-maker, is at Hotel Lagomarsino, representing an Atlanta, Ga., firm this time.

Mrs. D. G. Murrell has returned from New Orleans, where she went to attend a reception given Dr. and Mrs. Marmaduke Dillon.

Misses Marie and Elizabeth Burnett, who have been spending several weeks at Lake Forest, Ill., with their aunt, Mrs. George Cobb, will return home Tuesday. They were expected home Thursday but deferred their coming on account of the ice carnival.—Louisville Courier Journal.

THE NEW MANAGER

Mr. D. N. Smith Arrives From Jackson Tenn.

And Takes Charge of the People's Independent Telephone.

Mr. D. N. Smith, manager of the Independent Telephone company of Jackson, Tenn., has been appointed to succeed Mr. K. E. Ashbrook as general manager of the Independent Telephone company in this city. Mr. Smith arrived this afternoon to take charge of his new position.

Mr. Ashbrook will remain vice president of the company and will devote his entire attention to insurance business, with which he has been connected for a number of years. He will leave Saturday for Hot Springs, Ark., with his wife to remain several weeks for the benefit of Mrs. Ashbrook's health. When he returns he will make definite business arrangements, and decide as to whether he will retain an office in the independent company's building or go elsewhere. The employees of the company presented Mr. Ashbrook with a handsome Elks head watch charm as a testimonial of regard Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Smith will temporarily have charge of the exchange in Jackson as well as here. He will not move his family to this city for the present. Mr. George R. MacKlean, one of the directors of the company from Wilkesbarre, Penn., is in the city.

CONDUCTORS ON

THEY BEGIN WORK TODAY ON STREET CAR LINES.

This morning the Paducah City Railway company placed conductors on the depot line and for the first time in the history of the city this line resembled a city street car system. A number of the traveling men who come here are used to having their fares collected and some absolutely refuse to come up and pay. They think the company is compelled to collect the fare.

Later in the summer conductors will be put on the other lines, it is promised.

THE SICK.

Elizabeth, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hinkle, who has been dangerously ill from pneumonia and measles, is better, and it is now thought she will recover.

Miss Ada Thompson, who has been suffering from erysipelas, at her home on Jefferson street, is improving.

Miss Betta Hatfield, who has had a severe attack of erysipelas of the eyes is better.

IN THE COURTS

Rehkopf Decision for Next Wednesday Morning.

Three Cases Against Saloon Keepers in the Police Court—County Court.

THE COUNTERFEITER'S TRIAL

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge William Reed, of the McCracken circuit court, has reserved his decision in the Rehkopf injunction suit case until Wednesday, when he states he will render an opinion.

The affidavits were read and the argument made Saturday and this morning the attorneys expected an opinion but Judge Wm. Reed was ill and had not quite decided on several points.

Affidavits were filed in the case of Joe Torian against E. C. Torrell in support of a motion for a new trial.

James W. Leigh was excused as a petit juror and John Hock substituted.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Usher against Williams was overruled.

The defendant's motion for a new trial in the action of George O. Hart & Sons Co. against the Seacoast Mineral company was overruled and an appeal granted.

In the case of Randolph Wurlitzer & Co. against F. N. Gardner, motion and reason for a new trial were filed by the plaintiff.

Amended reasons for a new trial were filed in the action of Palmer Transfer company against Paducah Railway and Light company.

The case of Jennie Downs against C. H. Pace, administrator, was dismissed without prejudice.

Motions and reason for a new trial were filed in the case of L. R. Craig against R. E. Watson. The plaintiff was given a verdict for $1 damages Saturday. He sued for $5,000.

At press time the case of Robert Rivers against the I. O. railroad and Paducah city railroad, was on trial. The plaintiff sued for $2,000 damages for injuries sustained in a car struck by an I. O. train.

The case of John Castleman against J. W. Little, for several thousand dollars damages for injuries sustained at the defendant's mill, was tried before Special Judge Flournoy this morning and on peremptory instructions a verdict was returned for the defendant.

POLICE COURT.

George Wilcox, Roy Wilson and Alex Story were charged in the police court this morning with violating the Sabbath. Two of the cases were continued and Story was fined $15 and costs.

Howard Bolen was fined $1 and costs for being drunk.

A case for immorality against John Vinegar and Lee Ellis was continued. James McCreery was fined $25 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.

A. W. Bartlett was fined $10 and costs for a breach of the peace.

The malicious shooting case against Frank Jones, colored, was continued until Friday, and that against Lee Ellis, colored, who shot at her husband in Littleville Saturday, was continued until tomorrow.

FRANCHISE ASSESSMENT.

The franchise assessment of the State Board of Equalization has been received for this county by County Clerk Graham. The assessment of the Paducah Union Depot company is $3,911, on which 82 cents on the $100 must be paid. The Illinois Central will have to pay 82 cents on the $100 for on an assessment of $105,612, for the county outside the city, and on $16,596 inside the city. The assessment for each district will be:

District No. 4, 2.82 miles, equalizing $15,758; No. 3, 2.00 miles, equalizing $11,175; No. 5, 2.28 miles, equalizing $12,706; No. 7, 2.82 miles, equalizing $15,758; No. 8, 2.04 miles, equalizing $13,399; No. 12, 1.39 miles, equalizing $11,231; No. 48, 2.12 miles, equalizing $11,846; No. 41, one mile, equalizing $4,587; No. 49, 1.24 miles, equalizing $81,85.

For these various assessments school taxes will be collected for the respective districts by the sheriff.

right, of near Murray, Calloway county, a farmer and photographer arrested Saturday by Deputy U. S. Marshal Hubbard, and alleged to have made the counterfeit $20 bills, circulated in this section, will take place before U. S. Commissioner Armonr Gardner Tuesday, Feb. 16. Boatright announces he will waive examination. While it is believed he made the bills, the government officers have been unable to find conclusive proof of it yet. They made a search of his gallery some time ago but found nothing incriminating. They think that the arrival of Mayfield officers sometime before they made the search alarmed Boatright, and that he destroyed the plates or negatives. It is estimated that about $3,000 worth of the bogus bills have been turned loose in this section, most of them among the farmers.

COMMISSIONER SALES.

Attorney Cecil Reed, master commissioner of McCracken county, this morning held his first sale at the court house.

In the case of W. A. Usher and others against A. L. Williams and others, property near Woodville, was sold for $1,821 to J. H. Williams.

In the case of Sarah Watson, petition ex parte, property was sold to E. G. LaGore, for $270. This property was sold for division of the proceeds.

Theatrical Notes.

Manager J. E. English today booked Miss Amelia Bingham for March 19th.

Louisville seems to be a bad place for "actorfolks." E. H. Sothern was sued twice on one day by disgruntled playwrights, and Mrs. Clay Clement, who was here a short time ago with her husband, was sued Saturday for $250 by a Chicago firm which claims the amount for legal services and advice in assisting her to get a divorce. Her stage name was formerly Karra Geiger, under which she is sued.

An attraction at The Kentucky Tuesday and Wednesday nights will be those ever popular German dialect comedians, Harris and Sldman, in the newest and latest edition of Weber and Fields' "Poness Cafe." The company comes direct from Weber and Fields' Music Hall, New York city, and a great deal of time and money has been spent on this successful musical farce, making it one of the most glitteringly bright, brilliant and beautiful productions on the road. The musical numbers include all of the latest and best popular selections, making "Poness Cafe" a remarkable melange of mirth, song and beauty. In addition to Harris and Sldman, who have been Weber and Fields' understudies for a number of years, the company contains a large number of clever people and the chorus is noticeable for its grace and beauty and cleverness of its members. Seats are now on sale.

THE ELKS BUILDING.

COMMITTEE MEETS THIS EVENING TO LOOK OVER PLANS.

A meeting of the Elks Building Association will be held this evening at the office of Attorney T. B. Harrison to look over plans, etc., for the new building to be started shortly. It was expected that bids would soon be asked for, but it seems that there has been some delay due to the fact that after selecting plans for the building, it was voted by some of the members of the association to do it over again and ask for plans from various architects.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 14.7 on the gauge, a fall of 2.0 in the last 24 hours. Weather clear with north winds. Temperature 25 with indications for warmer weather. Winds will change to east before night.

The Memphis went into Tennessee river Saturday.

The Clyde is due tomorrow from Tennessee river.

The Nevins has gone to Caseyville after a tow of ties.

The Monie Bauer went into Tennessee river Saturday.

The Henrietta went to Joppa yesterday to unload ties.

The Lydia went into Tennessee river this morning after ties.

The Ten Broeck went into Tennessee river yesterday after ties.

This morning the Dick Fowler resumed her regular trips to Cairo.

The Fannie Wallace is due from the mines at Caseyville with coal. She has been there ice bound.

The Inverness took a tow of ties to Brookport this morning to unload. She had been ice bound here with ties.

The John S. Hopkins will leave Thursday for Evansville and tomorrow there will be no packet to that city.

The Joe Fowler left this morning at 11 o'clock for Evansville after laying up for several weeks on account of low water and ice.

The Woolfolk is laying up waiting for boilers. The boilers are on the L. and N. and the L. C. has been unable to move them on account of the heavy business.

For the first time in many weeks the Ohio river from Louisville down is open to navigation and this morning no ice was reported at Evansville and coal is being dropped through the canal at Louisville. This means that a slight rise is reported at Louisville with indications for more water and if the weather remains moderate the boating stage will be excellent for some time.

THE STROLLERS
By FREDERIC S. ISHAM,
Author of "Under the Rose"
Copyright, 1902, by THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

A solemn peace fell upon the young girl as she entered, and she seemed to leave behind her all disturbing emotions, finding refuge in the supreme tranquillity of this ancient city of the dead. She was surrounded by a resigned grief, a sorrow so dignified that it did not clash with the sweeter influences of nature. The monotonous sound of the words of the priests harmonized with the scene.

To many the words so mournfully intoned brought solace and surcease from sorrow. The sisters of charity moved among the throng with grave, pale faces, more shadows of their earthly selves, as though they had undergone the first stage of the great metamorphosis which is promised.

The little orphan children heard and heeded no more than the butterfly which flitted upon the engraven words, "Dust to dust," and poised gracefully as it bathed in the sunshine, stretching its wings in wantonness of beauty.

Now Constance smiled to see the little ones playing on the steps of a monument. It was the tomb of a great jurist, a man of dignity during his mundane existence, his head enshrined with those precepts which are devised for the temporal well being of that fabric, sometimes termed society, and again civilization. The poor waifs, with suppressed laughter—they dared not give full vent to their merriment with the black-robed sisters not far away—ran around the steps, unmindful of the inscription which might have been written by a Johnson and as unconscious of unseemly conduct as the insects that hummed in the grass.

"Hush!" whispered one of the sisters as a funeral cortege approached.

The children, wide-eyed in awe and wonder, desisted in their play.

"It is an old man who died last night," said a nun in a low voice to Constance, noticing her look of inquiry.

The silver crucifix shone fitfully ahead, while the chanting of the priests, winding in and out after the holy symbol, fell upon the ear. And the young girl gazed with pity as the remains of the Marquis de Ligne, her father, were borne by.

CHAPTER XXVII.
LONGER and longer trailed the shadow of a tall tombstone until, as the sun went down, it merged into the general twilight like a life lengthening out and out and finally blending in restful darkness. With that transition came a sudden sense of isolation and loneliness; the little burial ground seemed the world, the sky its walls and ceiling.

From the neighborhood of the gates had vanished the dusky vendors, trundling their booths and stalls cityward. As abruptly had disappeared the bearers of flowers and artificial roses with baskets poised upon their heads, imparting to their figures dignity and correctness. The sad-eyed nuns had wended their way out of the little kingdom of the departed, surrounded by the laughing children and preceded by the priests and acolytes. All the sounds and activities of the day—the merriment of the little ones, the oblations of the priests, the greetings of friends—were followed by hush and languor. Motionless against the sky spread the branches of the trees, like lines etched there; still were the clambering vines that clasped monolith and column.

But suddenly that deathlike hush in nature's animation and unrest was abruptly broken, and an unearthly voice, emanating from the voiceless peace, sang a hoarse voice as its owner came staggering along one of the walks of the cemetery; for all his song, no blue water sailor man, but a boisterous denizen of the great river, a raftman or a keel boatman, who had somehow found himself in the burial ground and now was beating aimlessly about. How this rollicking wail of the grogshopper came to wander so far from the convivial haunts of his kind and to choose this spot for a ramble can only be explained by the vagaries of inebriety.

"With a Jill in your wake, A fair port, you'll make!"

he continued, when his eye fell upon the figure of a woman, some distance ahead, and fairly discernible in the gathering twilight. Immediately the song ceased and he steadied himself, gazing incredulously after the form that had attracted his attention.

"Hello!" he said. "A vast, my dear!" he called out.

Echoing in that still place, his harsh tones produced a startling effect, and the figure before him moved faster and faster, casting a glance behind her at the man from the river, who, with snatches of song, started in uncertain but determined pursuit. As the heavy footsteps sounded nearer she increased her pace, with eyes bent upon the distant gate. Darker seemed to grow the way. More menacing the shadows outstretched across the path. Louder crunched the boots on the shell walk. More audible became the words of the song that flowed from his lips, when the sound of a sudden and violent altercation replaced the hoarse, tumbled cadence, an altercation that was of brief duration, characterized by longshoreman oaths and followed by silence. And then a figure, not that of the tuncful waterman, sprang to the side of the startled girl.

"Miss Carrow!" exclaimed a well-remembered voice.

Heavily, breathing quickly, she gazed from Edward Mauville, who thus unexpectedly accosted her, to the prostrate form lying motionless on the road. The rude awakening from her day dream in the hush of that peaceful place and the surprising sequence had dazed her senses, and for the moment it seemed something tragic must have happened.

"Is he dead?" she asked quickly, unable to withdraw her glance from the lifeless figure stretched out in the dim light on the path.

"No fear," said Mauville quietly, almost thoughtfully, although his eyes were yet bright from the encounter. "You can't kill his kind," he added contemptuously. "Brutes from coal barges or raftsmen from the head waters! He struck against a stone when he fell, and what with that and the liquor in him will rest there awhile. He'll come to without remembering what has happened."

Turning moodily, the land baron walked slowly down the road away from the gate. She thought he was about to leave her, when he paused as though looking for something, stooped to the ground and returned, holding out a garment.

"You dropped your wrap, Miss Carrow," he said awkwardly. "The night is cold, and you will need it." She offered no resistance when he placed it over her shoulders. Indeed, seemed unconscious of the attention.

"Don't you think we had better go?" he went on. "It won't hurt him," indicating the motionless body, "to stay here, the brute!"

Her answering look was so gentle, so sad, an unthought feeling of compunction seized him. He repeated of his harshness and added less brusquely:

"Why did you remain so late?"

"I did not realize how late it had become."

"Your thoughts must have been very absorbing," he exclaimed quickly, his brow once more overcast.

Not difficult was it for him to surmise upon whom her mind had been bent, and involuntarily his jaw set disagreeably, while he looked at her resentfully. In that light he could but dimly discern her face. Her bonnet had fallen from her head, her eyes were bent before her as though striving to penetrate the gathering darkness. With his sudden spurt of jealousy came the temptation to clasp her in his arms in that silent, isolated place, but the figure of the sailor came between him and the desire, while pride, the heritage of the gentleman, fought down the longing. This self conquest was not accomplished, however, without a sacrifice of temper, for after a pause he observed:

"There is no accounting for a woman's taste."

She did not controvert this statement, but the start she gave told him the shaft had sped home.

"An outlaw! An outcast!" exclaimed the patron, stung beyond endurance by his thoughts.

Still no reply; only more hurried footsteps. Around them sounded a gentle rustling. A lizard scrambled out of their path through the crackling leaves. A bat or some other winged creature suddenly whirled before them and vanished. They had now approached the gate, through which they passed and found themselves on the road leading directly to the city, whose lights had already begun to twinkle in the dusk.

"Is he dead?"

VARIABLE ROUTES TO FLORIDA.

In addition to the numerous facilities provided for the comfort and pleasure of Florida travelers, the Southern Railway and Queen & Crescent Route have this year added a new and unusually attractive feature in the form of a variable route tourist ticket, by means of which, at a slight additional expense, the going trip may be made via Chattanooga, Atlanta and Macon and the return trip via Savannah, Columbia, Asheville, Hot Springs and Knoxville—or vice versa—including stop off, if desired, at all of these and other points, so that a passenger may visit Lookout Mountain, the beautiful "Sapphire Country" the "Land of the Sky" and the principle commercial centers and tourist resorts en route.

The "Chicago and Florida Special" a superb train composed of through Pullman Drawing Room sleepers, composite car and dining car, leaves Cincinnati every evening except Sunday, via the Queen & Crescent Route. A handsome observation sleeper leaving Louisville at 7:25 p. m., is attached to the "Special" at Lexington and this train then runs through solid via Southern railway from Chattanooga to Jacksonville and St. Augustine, arriving at 9:30 p. m. and 10:35 p. m., respectively the next evening, making connection at Jacksonville for interior Florida points.

The "Florida Limited" leaves Cincinnati every morning the year around via the Queen & Crescent Route connecting at Lexington with the Southern railway trains from Louisville. This train also runs through solid to Jacksonville and St. Augustine via Southern Railway from Chattanooga carrying sleeping cars, observation and dining car, arriving at 9:45 a. m., and 11:15 a. m., respectively.

The Q. & C. "Special" leaving Cincinnati every evening carries Pullman sleeper through to Jacksonville via Southern railway from Harrison Jet. through Asheville, the "Land of the Sky" and Savannah. This train also connects at Lexington with train from Louisville.

There is of course corresponding fine service via each of these routes on the return trip. Either of the following booklets will be sent on receipt of two cent stamp "Land of the Sky," "Winter Homes, containing hotel list, "Hunting and Fishing in the South," containing game laws, Cuba folder, etc.

Complete information as to rates, schedules, etc., will be gladly furnished on application to C. H. Hangerford, D. P. A. Southern railway, 284 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.
